Abutters Meet On RR Plans

A meeting of all property owners abutting the railroad at Essex st. has been called by Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, in an attempt to determine how the railroad plans for the area have been received.

Mr. Duff said this first step in deciding how the town feels about the proposals may be taken today. Once the ideas of the property and business owners in the area have been obtained, he said municipal consideration can come to a head.

The railroad proposes automatic gates at the Essex st. crossing, after a re-alignment of streets and tracks has taken place. Rail-

Rafton Letter Spells Out Committee Effort

To the Editor of the Townsman:

"Article 26 of the town meeting of March 14, 1960, stipulates that the money voted to the Land Acquisition Committee be spent 'for the purpose of acquiring such school sites as may be designated by the School Committee, for such areas as may be designated by the Recreation Committee, and for a fire station site as may be designated by the Committee appointed for such purpose pursuant to Article 17 of the Warrant of the 1959 Town Meeting. . . no money to be spent without the approval of the Board of Selectmen, the Finance Committee, and the Planning Board'."

"It is thus clear that the function of the Land Acquisition Committee is confined to acquiring sites designated by the School and Fire Station Committees, and areas designated by the Recreation Committee; and that it has no authority to set the price to be paid for any parcel of land except as it may be granted that authority in any specific case by the three town bodies specifically delegated to grant approval of expenditure of the funds allotted to the Land Acquisition Committee. This strictly accords with my public statements on these two points.

"Your recent editorial, however, asserts that the Land Acquisition Committee, in seeking a site for a fire station, contradicts my statement that the Committee does not seek out sites in a prescribed area. This matter is readily explained. The School Committee has designated a specific site, and the Recreation Committee has designated a specific area, and the Land Acquisition Committee is seeking to acquire these. The Fire Station Committee by Article 17 of

Town Stays Republican

Andover stayed clearly in the Republican fold Tuesday, as 95.5 percent of the 9,815 eligible voters cast their ballots.

In not a single case did the town give a majority to a Democratic candidate.

State Auditor Thomas Buckley was the top Democratic vote-getter, with a town-wide total of 4,197.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall, polling 6,878 votes, was the leading Republican on the ballot. Andover voters supported Nixon, 5,685 to 3,582 for Kennedy; and endorsed Volpe, 6,609 to 2,555 for Ward.

Surprisingly, 60 voters didn't bother to vote for president, leaving their ballots blank for that office. One voter wrote in the name

Board May Use Own Judgment

The Land Acquisition Committee has the right to decide whether property should be acquired "in the best interest of the town", according to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

A legal opinion from Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien on land taking procedures also outlines the duties of the Committee and other municipal boards, in reference to the acquisition of land.

Mr. Duff said the ruling indicates to him that the Committee can use its good judgment when acquiring sites, rather than acting as a broker - merely trying to purchase specific sites pinpointed by other town agencies.

However, the Selectmen, Planning Board and Finance Committee also have responsibilities in this area too.

Duff said the ruling indicates the areas in which these boards are to act. The ruling recommends, he continued, that the Planning Board pay particular attention to the site itself and its location, because that agency is most concerned with growth and planning. The Finance Committee would be more attentive

The Andover Council of Churches has unanimously adopted a resolution "strongly disapproving" the scheduling of organized athletics on Sundays.

Meeting Oct. 30, the Council considered the problem as it affects the preservation of Sunday "for spiritual use and Christian family life."

Commenting this week on the resolution, the Rev. Frederick B. Noss said the Council has been disturbed by the "progressive invasion of Sunday" by such things as the scheduling of athletic contests. He said the Council wishes to make its position clear, by sending copies of the resolution to all member churches as well as to the public media.

The matter is one for action in the various parishes, he explained, without any attempt on the Council's part to bring the issue before the town in any legal capacity.

"We don't want to compel anyone," he commented, "because this is a matter of conscience."

The Rev. Howard A. Andrews of the West Parish Church pointed out that organized athletics on Sun-

AVIS To Hear Conservationist

The annual meeting of the Andover Village Improvement Society will afford a rare opportunity to hear Charles H. W. Foster, commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources, discuss the newly enacted conservation program - the first of its kind in the United States. Civic leaders in many states are watching this entirely new approach to a partnership plan which gives assistance - both financial and technical - to cities and towns for conservation needs.

The meeting will be held next Monday evening at 8, in the Central School auditorium.

The Commissioner and his staff of experts are authorized to work only through a duly constituted

Firemen's Ball
Nov. 18

The 89th annual Firemen's Ball will be held at the Andover Country Club Nov. 18.

Alfred C. DeRosier Jr. is chairman of the committee planning the traditional pre-Thanksgiving event.

And he explained this week that the Ball had been moved ahead somewhat this year so that it will not conflict with family plans for the holiday. The Ball, for many years, had been held on Thanksgiving Eve.

Featured this year is an evening of dancing, with a Boston orchestra providing music. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Members of the Committee include Kenneth Hilton, Robert West, Charles Bentley and Edward Morrissey. Tickets may be obtained from any Committee member.

ATTENDED MEETING

Mrs. Salvatore Basile of Andover, vice president of the Radcliffe Club of the Merrimack Valley, attended an all-day conference of Radcliffe Club presidents from New England Saturday, Nov. 5, at the Graduate Center, Radcliffe College.

Seeks Information
On Political Signs

Building Inspector Ernest N. Hall is seeking information on a Superior Court ruling which may affect the placement of political signs in the town.

The town of Lynnfield, taken into court by a political candidate because he had been directed to take down political signs on private property, apparently has been told that it may not prohibit the signs.

Various factors in the case will be investigated by the inspector to determine whether Andover's refusal to allow the signs can be upheld in the future.

Dear friends,

The mortuary profession is effeciently organized. For example, our affiliations make it possible for us to cooperate with other funeral directors in any portion of the United States. In cases where burial is desired in some other city, we can make all necessary arrangements for the care of the body upon its arrival.

The value of such a service is obvious.

Respectfully,

School Addition Project Impractical

The proposal to enlarge the West School, and add to a renovated Bradlee School - in place of building a new elementary school - has been abandoned.

Warren A. Lewis, chairman of the School Building Committee, and School Committeeman John S. Sullivan, conferred last week with the School Building Assistance Commission in Boston. As a result of that meeting, Mr. Lewis cited the following reasons why the step appears impractical:

"Although 6 1/2, and possibly as many as 8 1/2, acres might be obtained in the area, this would be slightly less than the desired minimum acreage and might endanger state aid. It is also obvious that land acquisition might be a lengthy proceeding, as witness the 6 - 9 months involved in the Noyes land, and in consideration of the fact that we would be dealing with at least four persons as opposed to only one in the case of the Noyes land.

"A 12-room school is not as desirable from an educational viewpoint or as economical from an administrative standpoint as an 18 room school.

"No state aid would be available for the renovation of the old Bradlee building and anything undertaken independently by the town would be subject to state approval if we were to receive aid on the addition.

"In all probability three general purpose rooms (cafeteria and gymnasium at the Bradlee and cafeteria at the West) would have to be built as opposed to only two such rooms if we build new facilities.

"The apparent saving in the renovation of the existent Bradlee school could be more than offset by additional costs involved in such as the above consideration."

Ambulance Fees Are Proper

The town appears to be asserting its rights in charging ambulance fees to non-residents of the town.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff was queried on the subject last week, after the Lawrence Council received a legal opinion that the city could not charge for the use of the ambulance as the Council had proposed. Some doubt was expressed that communities already engaged in the practice were doing so legally.

But Mr. Duff explained that residents, whose taxes help pay for the service, are not charged. Extra trips of up to 25-miles one-way, he said, are approved when a doctor requests the use of the ambulance.

On the other hand, all non-residents are billed for the use of the emergency vehicle, whether they are victims of accidents or are medical cases.

In all medical cases, the ambulance can be summoned only by authority of a doctor, Duff explained, so that no one can use the vehicle for easy transportation to the hospital when this is not necessary.

Bannister Rd
Job Delayed

The town definitely should not drainage on Bannister rd., if it is legal to do so, according to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

But he indicated this week that as yet, there has been no ruling by town counsel that will allow the project to go forward.

Because of civil legal action by property owners in the area, the doubt that exists as to the legality of the project, the town's legal counsel had been asked for a ruling. Mr. Duff said the best advice at the moment is "wait", while further study is made. He said there is a possibility that Bannister rd. may have been, in the old days, a road - abandoned for the town to maintain. If this is the case, continued, the town has some responsibility there.

Mr. Duff said he has directed the highway department to lay the proper pipes in Dascomb rd. so that drainage from Bannister rd. can be tied in easily, if a decision is reached as to legalizing the project. And he also explained that the bad drainage conditions could well be considered a public safety menace, because emergency vehicles couldn't pass through the road if needed.

FILED PETITION

A petition was filed in Probate Court by Harry Carl Levy of Andover asking that he be allowed to change his name to Harry C. Jordan. The petition stated that Jordan was the maiden name of his mother, that his mother was divorced many years ago from his father and that he was brought up by her.

Know Your Teachers

Teacher of the Month for November is Mrs. Miriam McArdle, director of the Music Department of the Andover schools.

A graduate of Abbot Academy and Lowell State College, where she took the music educators' course, Mrs. McArdle furthered her musical education by completing graduate study at Columbia University - College of Music, Boston University - College of Music, and the New England Conservatory of Music.

Her accomplishments in the Andover schools have been many. She founded the Andover All-Girl Band, the only all-girl band in the country and personally trained the band for several years. She also established Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs in the Junior and Senior High Schools, as well as choirs in the elementary schools. Many operettas, pageants and concerts have been presented under her direction and she has developed a strong instrumental program in the Andover schools. Mrs. McArdle initiated and has guided the instrumental classes, in which boys and girls in all the schools receive free string, woodwind, brass and percussion lessons, which prepare them for membership in the various school orchestras and bands. Her students have won many honors in musical competitions during the past several years.

Mrs. McArdle's professional affiliations include the National Music Educators Association and the Massachusetts Music Educators Association. She served two terms as president of the Andover Teachers Association. She is a member of the Boston Abbot Club, Shawsheen Woman's Club, where she served as the Music Committee chairman for several years; the Guild of the Infant Saviour, Boston; Ladies of Charity, Lowell; and Vesper Country Club, Lowell.

Mrs. McArdle has also been prominent in many community activities, serving on committees for the Greater Lawrence Polio Snow Ball, the Heart Ball and the Red Cross Ball. Her hobbies are traveling, reading and the theatre.

Jaycees & Choir Will Join Forces

The Andover Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Andover Men's Choir will join forces to meet Santa Claus.

Calvin Rushforth, member of both the Jaycees and the Men's Choir, acted as liaison between the two organizations. The colorful float will have its own electrical power to supply the electricity for the lights on the float and organ for the occasion.

Paul Gilday, Clifford Freije and President Richard Barney are assisting in decorating the float which should be quite a hit at Santa Claus Pageant in Lawrence Nov. 20.

YOUTH COUNSELOR AT UNITED CHURCH

At a meeting called by the Church Council of the Ballard Vale United Church, it was voted that William McDaniel, a graduate student at Harvard Divinity School, be the youth counselor for the Junior and Senior High Fellowships.

Mr. McDaniel is a graduate of Wofford College, Spartanburg, S.C., and has had one year in the Theological Seminary at Duke University, Durham, N. C. He is a native of Lawrence, S. C.

Girl Scouts

Troop 112

This troop devoted their time to work on their new craft badge. They started their own troop. The girls were selected last year and their new badge was "The Star of Bethlehem" which girl will wear this on her right sleeve.

Troop 90

This troop opened their year with the Flag ceremony and games and songs. They spent the remainder of the meeting working on a craft. The girls made the Girl Scout Promise and a trefol.

Mrs. Gaw's Brownie troop had a Halloween party. Refreshments were served, and they sang and danced.

Troop 32

These girls had a Halloween party. They played games and sang. Cider and doughnuts were served.

Troop 95

This troop will have their meeting of the year Monday, Nov. 14, immediately after school at South School. Officers for the coming year will be elected. Troop leader is Mrs. Glen.

Troop 82

This troop did not have a meeting this week.

Troop 118

Patrol four and five of this troop visited a local jewelry store. The owner talked to them about precious and semi-precious stones. This is one of the requirements for the rock and mineral badge. The girls were accompanied by Mrs. Shadlick.

Patrols one, two and three of this troop have completed plans for their fly-up money which will take place in the near future.

Troop 94

This troop had their meeting at the West Parish Church. They devoted their time to their nature series. Some of the girls decided which to work on next.

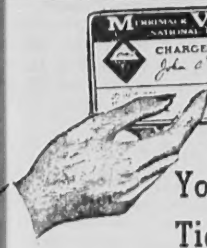

Attention Troop Leaders

The next meeting of the Andover Neighborhood Association will be at the Bay State Bank Building, Nov. 15 at 9:30 a.m. Please bring samples of some successful projects which may be used as gifts or decorations. Troop leaders under the leadership of Mrs. Roches, will act as hosts.

Troop 114

This troop has had two meetings this year. They meet at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Gym at O. School. They have 21 members and have divided into four patrols. The following patrol leaders:

Troop 112
This troop devoted their meeting time to work on their needlecraft badge. They started knitting warmers. The girls were each given their troop crest. This was selected last year and their selection was "The Star of Bethlehem." Each girl will wear this crest on her right sleeve.

Troop 90
This troop opened their meeting with the Flag ceremony and some games and songs. They spent the remainder of the meeting time working on a craft. They are making the Girl Scout Promise in alphabet macaroni on a trefoil background.

Mrs. Gaw's Brownie troop enjoyed a Halloween party. Refreshments were served, and they played games and sang songs.

Troop 32
These girls had a Halloween party. They played games and sang songs. Cider and doughnuts were served.

Troop 93
This troop will have their first meeting of the year Monday, Nov. 7, immediately after school at the South School. Officers for the coming year will be elected. The troop leader is Mrs. Glen Brown.

Troop 82
This troop did not have a meeting this week.

Troop 118
Patrol four and five of this troop visited a local jewelry store. The owner talked to them about precious and semi-precious stones. This is one of the requirements for the rock and mineral badge. The girls were accompanied by Mrs. Shadlick.

Patrols one, two and three completed plans for their fly-up ceremony which will take place in the near future.

Troop 94
This troop had their regular meeting at the West Parish Church. They devoted their time to finishing their nature series. Sometime was spent deciding which series to work on next.

Attention Troop Leaders
The next meeting of the Andover Neighborhood Association will be at the Bay State Bank Building Nov. 15 at 9:30 a.m. Please bring in samples of some successful crafts which may be used either for gifts or decorations. Troop 34, under the leadership of Mrs. DesRoches, will act as hostesses.

Troop 114
This troop has had two meetings this year. They meet at 3 p.m. each Tuesday in the Gym at Central School. They have 21 members and have divided into four patrols with the following patrol leaders:
Patrol One - Joanne Senuta;

Patrol Two - Sally Hatch; Patrol Three - Penny Huff; Patrol Four - Jackie Penny.

The girls spent their meeting time last week working on tying knots. They did very well and about 3/4 of the troop passed the test.

The fifth grade troops in the Central, South, and West School are in the process of being reorganized. There is an urgent need for adult assistance in Andover. Any adult volunteer who would like to help in the field of leader, troop consultant, or program consultant may call Mrs. Godin at GR 5-5859.

Uniform Exchange
Mrs. Lee Fuller has very kindly consented to be custodian of our uniform exchange. Do any former Intermediate Scouts or Brownies have a uniform they are not using? If you will please remove all badges, and leave it with Mrs. Fuller at 26 Shipman rd., she will hold it for someone who needs one. By the same token if you need a uniform, perhaps Mrs. Fuller has one waiting for you.

Troop 18
The Junior High troop, number 18, held their monthly joint patrol meeting at the home of Mrs. Roediger. This meeting dealt with the discussion of a vocation and nursing was the chosen topic. Mrs. Jean Fisk, R.N., was interviewed by Mrs. Roediger in a make-believe TV program, and then the girls were invited to ask any and all the questions they had in mind.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Emergency Phones

Some months ago, the Townsman suggested that some means for emergency communications should be established on Route 93.

A striking example of what happens when no such communications exist is contained in the fire chief's report for October. Here it is:

"One auto on Route 93 was totally destroyed due to lack of communications in that area. Much valuable time elapsed before word was received at Andover headquarters, and then it came by way of Methuen."

We believe this account of just one fire illustrates the need for emergency communications along the sections of any new thru-way in our town.

Citizens' alarms — telephones connected directly to the police station via telephone lines — may be the answer. Installed at the overpasses, where access to the lines is easier, the citizens' alarm could be marked plainly so that any motorist could spot it easily.

The usual complaint that telephone locations on a highway are not practical has no bearing here — few people would tamper with an alarm connected to police headquarters only.

It seems essential to provide some means of prompt communication — consider what happens when a stranger is driving through our town on the new highway:

He sees an accident, but doesn't know where to report it. So he may drive to the nearest access road and find a residence, then report the accident. Or, if it is dark, he may not even know where he is, nor can he find a house to telephone from.

If someone was badly hurt in such an accident, and delay in reporting the affair resulted in a loss of life, we would all be insistent on finding a remedy for the situation.

Let's, instead, find it now and install it, before any lives are lost because we ignored the problem.

Land Committee's Function

We're happy to hear that Town Manager Thomas E. Duff believes the Land Acquisition Committee can use its good judgment in the selection of sites for various municipal uses.

The question had been raised whether the Committee actually had the authority to make determinations on which land to buy, or whether it is merely an errand boy, going out to buy specific sites as directed by other committees.

Assuming that the Committee can, from now on, use its good judgment in selecting sites in an area specified by a committee or board, we hope that the boards and committees will depend on the Land Acquisition Committee for its help.

Ideally, the Planning Board can indicate an area for a particular purpose, then the responsible board or committee can approve it and tell the Land Committee to find a site in that area. Less than ideally, the Land Committee would be given only the responsibility for buying a site, once some other board has pointed to it precisely.

We are inclined to believe that the voters at town meeting saw the Land Committee as an agency which would pick out sites, after being given a general area in which to seek them. Most of the boards and committees, once having decided in what area they want a new building or new facility, are perhaps not as well equipped to study the terrain, look over technical reports on the land and the water table, the extent of facilities, etc., as is the Land Committee.

We hope the members are allowed to exercise their good judgment in this work in the future.

Announce Early

The town election — still some months away — already is stirring up some interest.

Rumors of candidacies are already in circulation — despite the preoccupation with the state and national campaigns that are just now completed.

Thus it is not too soon to point out that all candidates will be doing the voters a service if they make their official announcements at an early date. One of the factors involved in making a sensible decision at the town election is in knowing who the candidates are well in advance of the election. Then there is plenty of time to find out where the individuals stand on key issues.

On the other hand, candidates who wait until the last possible minute to make their intentions known sometimes do not wish to make their position on these issues available to the voters. They use the last-minute technique as a means to dodge this responsibility, figuring that there just won't be enough time for anyone to pin them down.

Hopefully, we look for some announcements in the next six weeks. Those who do this will be performing a service for their townspeople.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — November, 1910

Eames defeated Burns by 182 votes for representative in the state election.

Phillips Academy has defeated Exeter, 21-0. Andover's star was Mahon of Natick, the big full back, who scored 14 of the 21 points.

The Goldsmith Speakers this year will be Georgianna Lovejoy, Roy Lewis, Harold Cates, Lucretia Lowe, Gertrude Morgan, George Richardson, Lois Spickler and Laurence Colby.

25 Years Ago — November, 1935

The League of Women Voters will run a school on town affairs at meetings during the next five months, giving all Andover women a chance to learn about their town government and how it operates.

Augustine P. Sullivan has been installed as grand knight of the local Knights of Columbus Council.

The Andover Guild opened this week with a very heavy attendance.

Most of the clerical help at the ERA office is being transferred to Beverly, although the ERA projects are continuing here.

10 Years Ago — November, 1950

The Nov. 13 town meeting will consider two important articles. The first is a requested appropriation of $1,200,000 for two new elementary schools. The second is a request for a $10 wage increase for all full-time employees of the town.

The Telephone Co. has promised that, starting some time next year, the 10 cent toll charge for calls to Lawrence will be halted. The Lawrence-Andover area will be placed in a single-service district.

Apathy about the state election next Tuesday makes it difficult to predict the outcome with any certainty, according to an editorial in this week's issue.

Chief George A. Dane has warned that there are too many boys in the woods with guns. He made the comment after the department had received several complaints from residents, who claim they have almost been shot by careless hunters.

AT THE LIBRARY

NOVEMBER

Coming Events

6-12 Is American Education Week. 10 10 a.m. Ballardvale Littlest Listeners.

11 Library closed. Veterans Day. 15 7:45 p.m. Great Books Discussion Group.

18 Last day to enter the "Name The Colt" contest.

Library Hours

The main library is open daily, Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Saturday, it is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The Children's room is open Monday through Friday from 11:45 a.m. to 12:30 and again from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. On Saturday the Children's room is open from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. The Ballardvale branch is open Mondays and Thursdays from 2-5 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. All departments are closed on Sundays and holidays.

Great Books

The reading for the Great Books Discussion on Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, at 7:45 o'clock is to be "On Kingship" from the "Political Ideas Of St. Thomas Aquinas". New members may join the group at any time.

Library Closed

The library will be closed on Friday, November 11, Veterans Day.

Contest To Close

All names for the "Name The Colt" contest must be in the library by Friday, November 18, according to Miss Margaret Lane, Children's librarian, who is encouraging Andover boys and girls to share in the national contest. Names will be entered for a small colt, born to "Misty" of Chincoteague, a horse famous to young readers who enjoy horse stories. The colt's owner, Marguerite Henry, is asking those who love horses to help her select a name for the fawn-colored colt with four white feet and a blazed face, and there is to be a very special award for the winner. The library from which the chosen name shall come is to be given $1,000 for the purchase of books for its children's room.

Young people have been thinking very seriously about this and have entered a number of suggestions. Miss Lane will be happy to receive as many suggestions as possible before the deadline date.

Films Available

The following films will be available to groups for the dates indicated: until Nov. 18, Wind From The West, 18 minutes, and Lentil, color, 9 minutes; from Nov. 14-28, Farmer Of Austria, 16 minutes and United States, 45 minutes; from Nov. 21-24, Dancers World, 30 minutes; from Nov. 28-Dec. 12, The Pony, 30 minutes.

The film lending policies at the Memorial Hall Library are very simple: any group in the community may borrow the library projector and screen, along with the films which they wish to use, without charge. However, the group must employ one of the library's trained projectionists to handle the machine, etc. Films should be booked well in advance of planned showings; they must be picked up and returned at an hour agreed upon when making the reservations. Small slips are to be filled in by the borrower, indicating the number of viewers, audience reaction, etc. and returned to library with the film.

The library is part of a pool which gives all members opportunity to draw on a number of fine films in many subjects. There are travel films, children's music, theater, animal studies, flower subjects, art films. They may be reserved during certain periods, some especially for school groups, a few for younger viewers. Anyone wishing more information should contact the library and for Mrs. Hart.

Nat'l Education Week

During National Education Week the library is exhibiting a number of books and pamphlets on subject of prime importance — education of children, and in display there are a number of books on another important subject — education of parents. The display no longer means that an individual may rest on his formal schooling; times change too quickly for today's truth proves itself tomorrow. Here are a few titles: some new, some not so new on subject of adult education: Study The Community, a basic planning library adult education services, American Library Assoc.; Books For Adult Education, grades 1 to 7 — a reference that lists books of help to adults who have a need to learn English; Education For A Long Useful Life, Education Bulletin; American Ideas About Adult Education, Grattan (this book published by Teachers College, Columbia, covers the history of adult education ideas and efforts from 1710-1951); The Great Adult, Mearns; Library Adult Education In Action; five case studies Phinney (Andover readers will call that this book includes a study made of our town and others to establish the part the library plays in the education of adult members of the community. Education For Maturity, Adult Education, the community approach, Sheats; The Education Of American Businessmen (a study of university-college programs in business administration. Adult Education In A Free Society and Education For Public Responsibility, two pamphlets.

A new pamphlet has just been added to the library which should do much for mothers of children of kindergarten age, up through grade 6: "How To Help Your Child Learn", a handbook that was prepared by the National Education Association. It tells why the parent is important and how he can help as his child moves up from reading, writing and arithmetic to science, social studies, art, music, foreign language, etc. It has an explanatory word about the subjects "homework" and "report cards."

Adult Classes Start Tonight

Adult activities, under the sponsorship of the Andover Recreation Council, will begin tonight at Junior High School.

Classes in volleyball, theatre, bridge, painting, drawing, fly tying and fishing will be offered. There will be a slight registration fee for the two 10-week courses planned by the Council. The hours are 8-10.

Anyone interested in the classes may contact Mrs. Matthew Medick on Wild Rose dr.

to price factors, according to Duff, deciding whether a purchase was financially sound.

The Selectmen, he indicated, have a double responsibility to determine that the site for a municipal facility is a proper one and that it is financially sound.

All these boards are named in a town meeting article as having passed judgment on the efforts of the Land Committee, before an actual purchase is made.

Duff said he believes it was the intent of the voters to give the Land Committee the authority to exercise its judgment on sites within specified areas.

In reference to land seizure, a ruling stated that the Selectmen should take the legal steps involved, "only at the request of the Land Acquisition Committee."

Mr. Duff said the Land Committee has made this request to the Selectmen concerning a site on Lovejoy rd. that has been recommended for an elementary school.

A coffee hour was held and was followed by the business meeting. This group will have charge of the table at the Christmas Open House Nov. 16 and 17 at the Essex County Agricultural School.

The Show and Tell team, Mrs. Frank Froburg and Mrs. Meyers, talked on the subject "What Shall I Wear?"

Mrs. Albert Warner and Mrs. Roy Brown will attend the demonstration on "Dried Flower Arrangement", about which they will talk at the December meeting.

Members attending were Mrs. Winifred Farr, Mrs. Roy White, Mrs. James Letters, Mrs. Charles Jacobson, Mrs. Robert Mears, Mrs. Albert Warner, Mrs. Frank Haggerty, Mrs. Frank Green, Mrs. Froburg and Mrs. Meyers.

Parties Held For Kayworth Boys

Monday, Oct. 31, was a happy day for Stephen Kayworth, for on that day he celebrated his ninth birthday, which occurred Nov. 1, and he also entertained with Halloween games and fun such as pin the handle on the Pumpkin and Relay race. Hot dogs and hamburgs were enjoyed as well as birthday cake and ice cream.

Those present were Craig Russell, David and Wayne Thompson, James Pope, John Danforth, Jonathan Mosher, Philip Owen and Stephen, Peter and Timothy Kayworth.

Last Sunday evening, Peter Kayworth, who was seven years old Nov. 8, also celebrated his birthday with a family party at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kennis of High Plain rd.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Alsdon Arold and Richard and Jonathan Arold from No. Andover.

School Menu

The public school menu for next week follows:

Monday - fruit juice, corned beef hash, buttered beets, Vienna bread and butter, chocolate pudding with topping and milk.

Tuesday - baked ham with cranberry glaze, oven browned potatoes, buttered spinach, whole wheat bread and butter, sliced peaches and milk.

Wednesday - frankfurts in buttered roll, mustard and relish, potato chips, cabbage salad, apricot upside down cake and milk.

Thursday - spaghetti with meat sauce, tossed salad, cheese sticks, Italian bread and butter, frosted chocolate cake and milk.

Friday - oven browned fish fillets, parried potatoes, buttered peas and carrots, Vienna bread and butter, apple crisp and milk.

Inspected Troop For Charter Renewal

Boy Scout Troop 77 had an official inspection last night, in preparation for the annual charter renewal. District commissioners inspected the West Andover Troop.

The Troop held Court of Honor ceremonies Nov. 2, installing new patrol leaders, investing tender-foot scouts and awarding merit badges.

Plans of the Troop call for one weekend hike to be held this month, using one of the Andover Village

Improvement Society sites for a camp.

Robert Hooson is Scoutmaster.

FRANCIS J. RODERICKS

Francis J. Rodericks, a former personnel executive and production engineer with the American Woolen Company at the Shawshen mill, died Wednesday, Nov. 2, in Mount Prospect Ill.

Mr. Rodericks was a native of Warren, R. I. where he received his early education. He graduated from Tefft Business College, Providence, R. I. and attended Northeastern University, Boston.

He began work with the American Woolen Company in 1936 as a time study engineer. In 1938 he was sent to the Shawshen mill where he served as a production engineer and manager of the personnel department. In 1952 he left the American Woolen Company to accept a position as director of employees and personnel with the Commonwealth Shoe and Leather Company, Whitman. Later he became industrial relations manager of the Chilton Greeting Co., Boston and in 1958 was transferred to the post of vice-president of the Hertz Co. of Chicago, Ill. which was a subsidiary of the Chilton Co.

While living in Andover, Mr. Rodericks was prominent in civic activities. He served as a director of the International Institute of Lawrence and was general chairman of the career day for Lawrence public schools. He was a member of the Andover Service Club and was chairman of the industrial division in the Red Cross drive. He was a past president of the Personnel Managers Club of Boston and served as president of the Men's Club of the Universalist Church, Lawrence. He was a member of Grecian Lodge, A.F. and A.M.

Surviving is his wife, Irene H. (Wells) Rodericks, a daughter, Miss Heather Irene Rodericks; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rodrigues of Warren, R. I., a brother, Joseph Rodrigues Jr., of Gov. Stevenson. And for governor, one person wrote in the name of Endicott Peabody.

The most amazing feature of the election was the size of the vote - for although the town-wide average was 95.5, some precincts did much better than that.
In precinct one, 97 percent, or 1026 voters went to the polls. Precinct two boasted a 96 percent average, with 1,344; precinct four had 96 percent, with 1,539 voting; precincts three and six had 95 percent, with 1,797 and 1,898 respectively; and precinct five had a 94 percent vote, with 732 of its 781 total.

Considerable weariness accompanied the election, as teams of counters worked far into the morning to get their precincts ready to report.

As predicted by many observers, the final precinct didn't come in until 3:25 a.m. - about four hours after the first precinct.

Reporting at 11:20 p.m. was precinct four; then a wait of an hour ensued, before precinct five reported at 12:20 a.m. It was just another hour before precinct three came in.

Precinct one reported at 2:05; then followed the long wait for Precinct six, at 3:25.

Town Clerk Irving Piper finally cleared up all the totals just before 5 a.m.

A few interested citizens remained at the town hall throughout the long hours, mostly in an effort to check on the progress of their candidates.

Full totals of the voting, by precincts, will be found elsewhere in this issue.

ABUTTERS TO MEET
ON RR PLAN

road st. would be straightened, going through the corner lot where the old house stands, and across Essex st. through the town parking lot into the business property beyond.

The tracks would be reduced in number to two at the actual crossing, the plan indicates, thus avoiding some of the difficulties now experienced, with many tracks in the general traffic crossing section.

The Selectmen last week discussed the subject with a representative of the railroad, and then asked that a Department of Public Utilities hearing be delayed until further consideration can be given to the proposals. The hearing has been postponed indefinitely.

day does, indeed, intrude on Church activities, even though the games are scheduled after Church hours. He said there are many cases where a boy's mother stays home from church because dinner must be ready early because of the schedule; and he also felt that many young people, after taking part in the events, do not then attend the young peoples' activities Sunday evenings.

The full text of the resolution adopted by the Council follows: "The Andover Council of Churches registers its strong disapproval of the scheduling of organized athletic activities such as Andover Junior League football on Sunday and urges the preservation

Election Went To GOP

Andover high students - 484 strong - voted in their own election Tuesday, and generally reflected the sentiment of the town in their balloting.

Over-all, the students did not support a single Democrat, comparing with the same town-wide result.

Lawrence Mayor John J. Buckley carried precincts two and three in the high school election, and repeated the process in the town election, in his effort to become governor's councillor.

However, the students representing precinct two supported Charles Anthony for state senate, and their elders endorsed incumbent James Rurak. The same situation prevailed in the Costello-Milliken contest for Register of Probate. In precinct three, a majority of the adults endorsed Costello also, while the students did the opposite.

It was evident, then, that at least some of the students voted a party ticket, particularly for county and district offices.

Here are the totals for the high school election:

Kennedy 182, Nixon 300; Saltonstall 345, O'Connor 132; Volpe 372, Ward 108; McLaughlin 130, Means 352; Brooke 297, White 118; McCormack 232, Michaels 255; Driscoll 196, Trybulski 277; Buckley 222, Wardwell 247.

Madden 156, Morse 311; Buckley 219, York 239; Rurak 161, Anthony 285; Giles 327, Longworth 250, Williams 333, Buckley 141, Devaney 86, Walsh 120.

Costello 202, Milliken 261; Pratt 267, Burke 130, Scanlon 169, Thompson 279; Duffy 189, Black 267.

RAFTON EXPLAINS COMMITTEE WORK

the 1959 Warrant was instructed 'to study...the site for...a fire station in the West Andover Area and report their findings to the next Annual Town Meeting'.

"The report of that Committee is given on page 92 of the 1959 annual Town Report. It recommends 'an additional Fire Station in the West Andover area near the intersection of Lowell Street, Route 133, and the new Route 93... The Fire Station Committee, having thus completed its assignment, passed out of existence. However, its recommendation, while complying with its assignment, did not furnish the Land Acquisition Committee with the information required by it in order that it, in turn, could carry out its assignment. The information was deficient in three respects: 1) no particular site was designated, only a general area; 2) the acreage required was not specified; and 3) the frontage required was not specified.

"Had the Fire Station Committee been in existence when its report came to the attention of the Land Acquisition Committee, the Land Acquisition Committee would have requested the Fire Station Committee, although it had already completed its assignment, to furnish additionally to the Land Acquisition Committee the three items listed above as necessary for the Land Acquisition Committee to carry on its work. However, the Land Acquisition Committee could not recall into being a Committee no longer in existence; and, faced with that situation, it decided upon a course of action which it considered would permit it to fulfill the obligation placed upon it by the town to secure a fire station site.

"Fortunately, one of the members of the Land Acquisition Committee was Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton (who had also served on the Fire Station Committee), and it was felt that he had more specific knowledge than any other person of the requirements of site, acreage and frontage for a fire station, and that, upon investigation, he would be able to furnish the Committee with the necessary information which had not been made available by the Fire Station Committee. So, Chief Hilton, with Committee member Robert A. Watters, was appointed a Sub-Committee to investigate the fire station situation, and to report its findings as to site, acreage and frontage requirements to our Committee. The Sub-committee is still carrying on its investigation. When its report is submitted to the Land Acquisition Committee, any proposal resulting therefrom to purchase a parcel of land will, as usual, be subject to the approval of the three Town Bodies delegated for that purpose.

"With these facts before you, you can now appreciate that this action of the Land Acquisition Committee is not in contradiction of my general statements as to the functions of that Committee. Rather it is a reasonable effort to deal in a responsible manner with an exceptional unforeseen situation, unexpectedly thrust upon the Committee, whereby the Committee would be enabled to comply with the stipulation of Article 26 requiring it to secure a new fire station site."

Harold R. Rafton, Chairman Land Acquisition Committee

Williams Elected In 5th District

With a fine endorsement by Andover voters, Rep. Arthur Williams was re-elected Tuesday.

The final vote in the Fifth Representative District - Andover, North Andover, most of Methuen and Ward One of Lawrence - gave Williams 14,296 votes. Rep. Frank Giles of Methuen led the three-man field with 18,000; William Longworth, also of Methuen, was second with 16,264.

Charles A. Buckley of Lawrence, the nearest competitor, polled 12,378 votes.

Urban Renewal Panel At PTA

The Central P.T.A. meeting on Nov. 16 will be of considerable interest to everyone in the community.

There will be a panel discussion on "Urban Renewal", a topic of vital importance to Andover residents. David MacDonald Jr. will act as moderator. Mr. Franklin, director of Urban Renewal in Andover will serve on the panel. A representative of the consulting firm of Candeb Fleissig will be present. This firm has been approved by the Andover Housing Authority as its consultants. A third panel member will also be selected.

Classroom visitation with the teachers will be from 7:45 to 8:15.

Friends of Arthur Silva of Chandler rd. will be very sorry to learn that he is once again a patient at the Clover Hill Hospital.
